

Col. Roosevelt and the Progressive National Committee Indorse Candidacy of Hughes.

Epistle.

TEXT OF THE LETTER FROM OYSTER BAY.

T. R. Tells Why Hughes Should be Elected and Wilson Defeated.

(BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, June 26.—The National Committee of the Progressive party met here today and received Col. Theodore Roosevelt's declination of the Progressive nomination for President and his indorsement of the candidacy of the Republican candidate, Charles Evans Hughes. Approval great in the reading of the letter from Col. Roosevelt, in which he urges all Progressives to rally to the Republican standard, and a motion to accept the letter was adopted by acclamation. Tonight the committee voted to indorse the candidacy of Mr. Hughes. The vote was 22 to 4. Nine declined to vote.

ROOSEVELT'S LETTER.

Following is the full text of Mr. Roosevelt's letter to the Progressive committee:

To the Progressive National Committee—Gentlemen: In accordance with the message I sent to the Progressive National Convention as soon as I had received the notification that it had nominated me for President, I now communicate to you my reason for declining the honor which I so deeply appreciate. Since the adjournment of the convention I have received between 2000 and 3000 letters and telegrams from men who had supported me for the nomination, the majority expressing the desire that I would refuse to run, while a minority urged that I should accept the nomination. As it is a physical impossibility to answer these letters and telegrams individually, I beg of the courtesy of the senders that they will accept this public statement in lieu of such answers.

Before speaking of anything else, I wish to express my heartfelt and most unstinted admiration for the character and services of the men and women who made up the Progressive National Convention of 1912. I can give them no higher praise than to say that in all respects they stood level with the men and women who in 1912 joined at Chicago to found the Progressive party. These two conventions, in character, in disinterestedness, in vision, in insight, in high purpose, and in desire to render political service to the people, typified exactly what such bodies ought to be in a great self-governing democracy. They represented the spirit which moved Abraham Lincoln and his political associates during the decade preceding the close of the Civil War.

The platform put forth in 1912 was much the most important public document promulgated in this country since the death of Abraham Lincoln. It represented the first effort on a large scale to translate abstract formulas of economic and social justice into concrete American nationalism; the effort to apply the principles of Washington and Lincoln to the need of the United States in the twentieth century. No finer effort was ever made to serve the American people in a spirit of high loyalty to all that is loftiest in the American tradition.

Events have shown that the Progressive party in 1912 offered the only alternative to the triumph of the Democratic party. Moreover, these events have shown that the application of the principles which we then advocated is even more necessary to this nation than we at the time supposed.

The results of the terrible world war of the past two years have now made it evident to all who are willing to see that in this country there must be spiritual and industrial preparedness, along the lines of efficiency, of loyal service to the nation, and of practical application of the precept that each man must be his brother's keeper. Furthermore, it is no less evident that these preparations for the tasks of peace form the only sound basis for that indispensable military preparedness which rests on universal military training and which finds expression in universal obligatory service in time of war. Such universal obligatory training and service are the necessary complements of universal suffrage and represent the realization of the true American, the democratic ideal in both peace and war.

Sooner or later the national principles championed by the Progressives of 1912 must in their general effect be embodied in the structure of our national existence. Within all my heart I shall continue to work for these great ideals, shoulder to shoulder with the men and women who in 1912 championed them; and I am sure that these men and women will show a like loyalty to the other, fundamental, ideals which the events of the past two years have proven to be vital to the permanency of our national existence. The method by which we are to show our loyalty to these ideals must be determined in each case by the actual event. Our loyalty is to the fact, to the principle, to the ideal and not merely to the name, and least of all to the party name.

The Progressive movement has been given an incalculable impetus by what the Progressive party has done. Our strongest party antagonists have accepted and enacted into law, or embodied in their party platforms, very many of our most important principles. Much has been accomplished in awakening the public to a better understanding of the problems of social and industrial welfare.

Yet it has become entirely evident that the people under existing conditions are not prepared to accept a new party.

It is impossible for us Progressives to abandon our convictions. But we are faced with the fact that as things actually are the Progressive national organization no longer offers the means whereby we can make these convictions effective in our national life. Under such circumstances our duty is to do the best we can, and not to sink because our leadership is rejected. That we ourselves continue to believe that the course we advocated was in the highest interest of the American people is aside from the question. It is unpatriotic to refuse to do the best possible merely because the people have not put us in position to do what we regard as the very best. It remains for us, good-humoredly and with common sense to face the situation and endeavor to get out of it the best that can be made to yield from the standpoint of the interests of the nation as a whole.

This was the situation at the opening of the present year. It was evident that unless a catastrophe occurred the Presidential election would result in the choice of either the Republican or the Democratic nominee. The present administration, during its three years of life, had been guilty of shortcomings more signal than those of any administration since the days of Buchanan. From the standpoint of national honor and interest, it stood on an even lower level than the administration of Buchanan. No administration in our history had done more to relax the spring of the national will and to deaden the national conscience. Within the Republican party conflicting forces were at work. There were men among the organization leaders who advocated a course of action as offered no improvement upon the Democratic position and advocated the nomination of candidates whose election would have represented no improvement upon the continuance in office of Mr. Wilson. If such a course were followed, it would obviously become our duty to run a third ticket. But it was plainly our duty to do everything honorable in order to prevent such a necessity; to do everything short of sacrificing our most sacred convictions in order to secure the alignment under one leadership of the forces opposed to the continuance in power of Mr. Wilson and the Democratic party.

Under these circumstances the Progressive National Committee at Chicago, in January, outlined our duty to seek common action with the Republican party, using the following words: "Our people are seeking leadership—leadership of the highest order and most courageous character; leadership that will draft itself to the country's benefit the selfish and patriotic services of its ablest citizens. The surest way to secure for our country the required leadership will be by having, if possible, both the Progressive and Republican parties choose the same standard-bearer and the same principles."

Six weeks later, on March 9, in my Trinidad statement, I asked for a similar combination against the Democratic party, on a platform of "clean-cut, straight-out national Americanism" and for a candidate "who will not merely stand for such a programme before election, but will reasonably stand in good faith put it through if elected."

This was, in effect, the same statement that I made in my telegram to ex-Senator Jackson, pending the convention, which ran in part as follows: "Can we not, forgetting past differences, now join for the safety and honor of our country, to enforce the policies of genuine Americanism and genuine preparedness? Surely we can afford to act in accordance with the words of Abraham Lincoln, when he said, 'May not all having a common interest reunite in a common effort to save our common country? May we ask those who have not differed with us to join in this same spirit toward those who have?' As far as my own soul is known, it is in this same spirit that at this time I make my appeal to the Republicans and Progressives assembled in Chicago."

In addition to these public statements I had also stated my attitude verbally, and in letters during the weeks immediately preceding

MORE SOLDIERS THAN NEEDED.

Washington has its Full War Strength and Refuses Enlistments.

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE] TACOMA (Wash.) June 26.—Washington, the first State in the West to be mobilized to war strength, turned men down who presented themselves for enlistment at American Lake today. All the men in camp are being vaccinated today against smallpox and typhoid. Last night North Yakima telegraphed $1500 for the men from that town who have been mobilized, to be used as a "camp-luxury fund," and to-day several other towns in the State are following the example.

By the time the Northwesters he could supply his troops in the present field of action from El Paso, cutting out Columbus and the motor road. By the time the Mexican National will be in a position to sweep several other towns in the State are following the example.

WILSON'S WAY IS CRITICIZED.

Congressmen sneer at His Note to Carranza.

President's Mexican Policy Raked Fore and Aft.

Republicans Join Democrats in Opposing Vaccination.

BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH] WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, June 26.—President Wilson's latest note to Carranza was criticized at both ends of the Capitol today. In the Senate Senators Sherman and Lewis of Illinois, Kenyon of Iowa and others denounced it, while Senator Chamberlain of Oregon supported it.

In the House many Congressmen assailed the President, while others in the country should stand by him in the present crisis. Probably the severest comment was that of Senator Kenyon.

"I have told up what he intended to do, and he did it," said the President, writing him a little note and asking him if he really meant to do what he said he intended to do and did it.

"I never ask a man who slaps me in the face what his future intentions are," said Senator Sherman. "I have no objection to Carranza, inasmuch as he has already admitted the truthfulness of the Mexican situation which developed upon future developments.

Representative Hunt of Iowa, I have no criticism of the advance by Pershing up to now," said Gen. Pershing, having about 2000 men of the expeditionary force in the expedition. He probably has 11,000 men altogether. The strength of the Mexican army is uncertain.

The numbers on both sides are not available. The Mexicans, in reporting the advance by Pershing up to now, said Gen. Pershing, has 11,000 men altogether. The Mexican army is uncertain.

Representative Crampton of Michigan said Carranza's ultimatum means anything or not.

Representative Hamilton of Michigan said Carranza's ultimatum might have been avoided, I believe, if Carranza had been more considerate with reference to Mexico. Carranza is being urged to break away from his negligent position. He must not be allowed to do so.

GUARDSMEN
AT EL PASO?

Five Thousand Regulars are

Concentration of Provisions to Feed the Army.

EL PASO (Tex.) June 26.—Prepared preparations for the reception of thousands of National Guardsmen were under way in El Paso tonight. Military authorities expressed the opinion that approximately 25,000 troops will arrive in time before the end of the week, and when 30,000 regular troops now stationed here, will make El Paso the largest military concentration camp in the United States. With the arrival of the strength of the Massachusetts, New Jersey and Connecticut National Guardsmen, it is expected 50,000 regulars will be on hand to support the local military district, said the commander at today's meeting that he might be prepared to day for any additional troops sent to him. It is planned that about 100 of the State Guardsmen who are here will be stationed at Fort Bliss, the outskirts of the town, while camp sites were held in the corporate limits of the city for the remaining 50,000. Gen. Bell, the commanding general, has been late, and connections made, and the crowd leveled. Arriving vehicles for the men, to do up their arms but to throw up their canes.

CONCENTRATION OF SUPPLIES

Gen. William Elliott, in charge of the army quartermaster's department, said he had begun a general inspection of supplies, preparing for the arrival of the guardsmen. It was estimated that a million dollars worth of supplies would be on hand in time to the day.

Military authorities today completed lists of motor cars and motor trucks in El Paso available for army use, and the State Guardsmen were made with four local hospitals to care for overflow patients from the base hospital at Fort Bliss.

The frontier was quiet tonight, but little excitement was caused by the arrival of the guardsmen.

Mr. Hughes' demands upon the United States were given, "and the committee, we feel confident, Pomona's Police Chief Strikes Liquor Mine.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

POMONA, June 26.—Police Chief Lyle made his greatest individual haul early this forenoon when he discovered an alleged beer mine two blocks north of the Pomona Valley Hospital. While tramping around in an old ash-heap back of a Mexican shack he struck a pitchfork into a gummy bag filled with bottles of alleged beer, and he and his Officer Thomas got them out, cleaned them, they dug out eight gummy bags each of which contained two dozen full bottles.

Then the chief dug out another sack of two dozen bottles, which had been wrapped in small bags of hay, and by that time Officer Thomas had exhausted a gallon demijohn. A brandy bottle had been buried under a walnut tree. It took a dry wagon to haul the cache of alleged liquor to town.

The find resulted from investigation of a white tramping episode Sunday night. Officer Garrison was called to the shack at midnight by neighbors who said that somebody was "screaming bloody murder." An officer caught Lucas Andrade coming in from a barley field carrying a five-foot blacksnake mule whip.

Prelude to Arrest.Mistake, He Says; Wife Goes for Father's Help.

"Do you want your eggs fried hard or soft this morning?" cooed Mrs. C. L. Brinkley to her youthful husband, as she toiled over the kitchenette stove in the Venice apartment rented two days before by the couple.

Just then came a rap at the door and Mrs. Brinkley, hurrying there, was confronted by a man who she thought wanted to collect the rent. Apologizing for her appearance at that early hour, she met with return apologies and was informed that her visitor was Deputy Sheriff Nolan, who was accompanied by Deputy Sheriff Fox.

Frightened, the girl called her husband, who blustered about the indignities of an early morning surprise and then calmed down when he was told that he was under arrest for embezzlement. The warrant was issued by the officials of Wilcox, Ariz., and was sworn by the head of the North-Morgan Mercantile Company, of which Brinkley was a short time cashier.

BRIDE SEEKS HELP.

Without waiting to eat breakfast, Mrs. Brinkley and wife hurried into their street attire and accompanied the sheriff to the County Jail. Mrs. Brinkley tearfully declared her faith in her husband, who at the same time protested his innocence. As soon as he was lodged in his cell Mrs. Brinkley took a train to her home, where she will try and enlist the sympathies of her father, S. M. Kemp, owner and publisher of the Arizona Ranger and a wealthy mining man.

The young people have barely completed their honeymoon. Young Brinkley, son of a former director of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, and especially prominent at Atlanta, Ga., wanted to follow Horace Greeley's advice and grow up with the West. He traveled there from Arizona and decided to locate in Wilcox, where his eastern connections soon won him favor. He became a rival for the affections of Miss Kemp and quickly outdistanced his competitor. The young couple, of the big social events of the State, guests coming from all parts of Arizona.

JUNE 27, 1916.—[PART II]

PEN POINTS
BY THE STAFF.

Col. Roosevelt, like Hans Römann, once had a party; where is that party now?

What has become of the old iron cradles in which they used to rock the babies?

We ought to be able to put a lot of "pep" in the Fourth of July celebration this year.

According to the almanac, mier is now officially summer furs ready?

The fact that Woodrow Wilson is in excellent health no doubt bears about the renomination of Riley Marshall.

About the only mourners at the pier of the Progressive party are the amateur politicians. It gives them an opportunity to shine.

Judge Hughes will make a good tour of the country. And a little while ago the Democrats were afraid that he would not tell.

What if the committees appointed to apprise President Wilson on Judge Hughes of their nomination should forget to carry out their jobs?

About the most effective argument against Judge Hughes is taken advantage of by the Democrats will likely be the fact that they like to play the piano.

Did anybody in Southern California ever see a Chinese beggar? The race may be yellow and unattractive in many ways, but they are after their poor and they pay the bills.

The Wilson speeches for the national defense have been set to music for the campaign, but the composer has so far overlooked the "watchful waiting" and "too poor to fight" declarations.

There is no danger of Col. Bryan's getting the taint of being a Bryan. Bryan fell off his horse at Miss P. during the Spanish-American War and he suffered a dislocation of his patriotism that has not been healed.

Mrs. Champ Clark has written a State paper for Missouri in which the old "horn" dangled for four years ago that bailed Champ out of the Baltimore nomination? That is the "dawg" and the many Hall are responsible.

As to Mexico, we have had the years of vacillation, treachery and bluster without force. And it is the administration that could all have avoided by one impressive show of determination to make our voice heard.

Why worry about the whims of Judge Hughes? Lincoln, Hayes and Garfield were "em" in their time. John Quincy Adams, Martin Van Buren and Andrew Taylor. Presidents Arthur, Cleveland, Roosevelt and Taft were not.

There is a great deal of talk just now as to whether Shafter was born dry or a wet. But he seems to have been quite a man when being a fanatic either way. The chances are that Will end up with a few drinks when he goes to London.

Tom Corwin, the Ohio Senator, was the champion pacifist of his day. But his speech on the war with Mexico sixty years ago when he said: "I were a Mexican as I am an American I would welcome you to a hospitable grave."

President Wilson is great in smashing precedents, and Judge Hughes will crucify one himself in the fall. We refer to the Justice of the Supreme Court who have ever been President, though some have been candidates for the nomination before or after their appointment.

A summer campaign through torrid sections of Mexico is something to be dreaded by the boys who are not insured to that extent. Sending them down where they must endure the drink bad water and much physical stretching of naked to a picture not to be looked at with placidity.

Business is becoming in the but nine-months of it arises something to be dreading by the boys who are not insured to that extent. It is possible to that trade and commercial companies in this country would be out of the door now but for the careful export trade created out of the big war.

There are some things that have changed. When the people were young the women were more interested in the new woman. They have not been a generation and his family came out of the house when the suggestion was passed around among the three that girls are different now than they were when they were young.

A CRY FROM THE EAST. Into this gilded wilderness a lonely man in a haunted house. Swayed by passion, lost.

Human shards of moldering flesh. Phantom images that grasp. Shadowed lives that love. Germs of dust that wrack and call.

Fantastic dreams of hope and ambition passing, faith and These wraiths that like a spawn of clay. Lift up their voice to God in the air. And dumbly wait and wonder.

Into this gilded wilderness a lonely man in a haunted house.

Rod and Reel Club Enjoys its Best "Annual Outing."

Tyro Makes Veterans Pay
Profit on Education.

Tide Rough; Many Corbina
Taken—Ladies, Too.

Over eight members of the Southern California Rod and Reel Club, with their wives and friends, comfortably filled two special cars sidetracked Sunday at Mateo on the lower Orange county beach in testimonial of appreciating the "come-back" so successfully staged this season not only by the game fish of the surf, but also by the organization which emphasizes the sentiment of the light tackle. The gathering included the box of candy from Hermann to the body of the water, and file along the mainland. With the resumption of such sport as put upon the map the game which it was designed to protect, the good old Southern California Rod and Reel Club seems at last to have fallen upon better days, and brought on what may be common sentiment connected to the most enviable outing ever consummated in the ten years of work for the welfare of angling in the sea.

PERFECT DAY.

Favored with a perfect day, which left time to devote to the surf, the party scattered along the beach until the "whistling-post" stop dignified with a Santa Fe sign board, looked like an annual convention of the class-conscious fraternity in the days before surf fishermen began wondering what ailed the corbina. Half a ton of bait, a hundred tons of good-fellowship, lines extending to the railroad which, in special honor of the event sent a section gang down ahead to build up a bait bank of the size of a house not a single one of the traditions of the game be denied the fullest respect. For the Santa Fe, too, felt the effects of the stamp of the fishing interest with the dropping of of the nice Saturday business of fishermen, which can be built up again by extending the special Sunday rate to cover Saturday departs.

TOO MUCH SURF.

Hindered only by one of those roaring, banging tides, where in the breakers burst inshore with such fury that the surfers had to hold on the surf until, in the whirl of smothering white, speckled with kelp, grass and like "haards" to nautical puerilus, the surfers held on, the corbina, which could hold position, much less see anything to eat; but the "annual outing" was successful even in point of actual catch, although not a single man had been as successful as Harry A. corbina had shown nose at the finish. All not a few, some did very well, and the rod and reel club was well-represented to keep up the interest. With a quiet tide a general "killing" would have been certain as scattering fish were hooked everywhere.

It was not much of a day for surprises. Everyone went expecting a good time rather than many fish. Oscar Lane, who made the headlines with his wife, who worked all day like a military officer rounding up recruits, was busy everywhere: she carried coffee up and down the beach, and, indeed, "Oscar" proved himself well-named by selling angling licenses to a few who had come of without them; it was an order, and the shad, shrimps, trout, although some came escaped a ducking by getting away with John Lane's claws and fish without being caught.

"BEGINNER'S LUCK."

Wilson D. Frederick, a fresh-faced, youngish chum, who lives in Bear Valley but votes in Pomona, was the luckiest of the day, for the evening, with his wife, worked all day like a military officer rounding up recruits, was busy everywhere: she carried coffee up and down the beach, and, indeed, "Oscar" proved himself well-named by selling angling licenses to a few who had come of without them; it was an order, and the shad, shrimps, trout, although some came escaped a ducking by getting away with John Lane's claws and fish without being caught.

With the simple and abiding faith of the true sportsman, this Pomona enthusiast argued that any game which could bring together nearly a hundred good fellows must perform be a good game, as destined to learn it. Walking into a sport, however, he committed the fearful error of confessing ignorance, and they divorced him from his ducats for one of those two-handers, which, after all, had deviated framed up for the Atlantic Coast species of sport wherein shooting a one-ton pyramid projectile 100 yards away calls for the flams or some other professional hammer-thrower behind the combination. But all this handicap did not keep the simple and abiding faith from making a scandalous breach in the "bunk" reputation of "Father" Shaver, Sherman Baker, Champion Custer, Charlie Garret, the purveyors of "come-back" studies, came all the way from Orange—not to mention such other case-hardened, wind-burned battlers with the breakers as the veterans, three George, three Charles, three Pomary, who came up and went back to Redondo; Sudborough, who presented a box of candy from Hermann to the body of the water, and the box of candy from Mrs. E. J. Lesley, a four and one-half pound corbina, and Barnett, who put the cement pier on the corvina map. He tried to seal a march on the bunch with a

Local Wrestlers Afraid to

Vernon has had its measure of strange and queer sights—all of them guaranteed to startle the natives—but it sees the strangest and queerest sight of them all tonight. The woman wrestler struts into Jack Doyle's tonight and becomes the center attraction, where only men have fought and wrestled and acted before. It is all so different and odd that even the blase Mr. Jack Doyle himself is excited and disturbed.

Miss Grace Mayfield, the Amazon, has been matched with Burton Herrick in a catch-as-catch-can bout. It will go to a finish, although one bout is one-half of six—the other five being fights—for the moment it eclipses all.

POWERFUL.

Miss Mayfield is 25 years of age and as powerful as any man in the nation at that. She recently appeared at the Tony Alex and Tony Ball wrestling match a week ago and challenged the winner. Ball left the city. Alex said, "but he did not care to wrestle the woman Amazon."

Harry Burns was asked to test the Amazon, and since he met the new woman, Burns hemmed and hawed, "Some were unkind enough to say, 'She's a Amazon,'" he said. "Those who have seen him stand in the Vernon arena amid a half a hall of pop and beer bottles and calmly hold up his hand know that the unkindness of those who will try to call a howling Vernon mob of the old days is not afraid of timber woves let alone women."

SEPP DECLINES.

Augustine Sepp very politely declined the offer of the national championship. Here was a different kind of woman. She was a different kind of woman and man to meet her.

Plan Found Necessary to Successful Practice.

District Attorney will not be served by a voucher system requiring minute details of expenditure by witnesses brought here to testify in trials. Supervisor Hamilton's new plan to handle the condition, as it is, came to him in closed district, as no one there is right to take any claims whatever it, and one does not have to come into the office for the number, which are easier to keep than merely presence.

Liquors are forbidden to be sold in any district, and while it is a fact that some of the other districts do not do so, it is not curtail present supply.

The people up there wish to see the understanding, but the district attorney is the big claim, and the claim paid by weight, stated Mr. Heath.

Taking his claim will not decrease supply. The district scheme is best way to handle the condition, as it is, came to him in closed district, as no one there is right to take any claims whatever it, and one does not have to come into the office for the number, which are easier to keep than merely presence.

DEMAND KEEPS UP.

The way fishing-licenses demand up is surprising even the fish and game department and in touch with the interest spent at the local office of the commission, the Union League Building.

Yesterday's fishing license totalled 14,500, the first thousand of the hunting license 16 already have gone out, totaling the exact total at noon.

With $650 of the market fishing license collected in Southern California, and twenty-two of the aliens who had defied the law last week by the Fish and Game Commission, the demand for the license will probably jump to 15,000, the Austrians and Italians of San Pedro known to the fact that they are not members of the American Legion do not pay higher as a violation. The first defendants arrested by Deputy Webb Toms in the city, or of Denver, Hutchinson, Midway and Durango, were convicted and fined in San Diego by judges Schilling and Bryan on proof that they had been fishing inside the five-mile limit of the State's jurisdiction.

Hamilton Fish, Jr., the former member of the Legislature, has been endorsed by the New York County Committee of the progressive party for Lieutenant-governor.

STEADY LIQUIDATION
IN WALL STREET TRADE.

Declines are Marked up from Opening of the Market, the Only Recovery Being Just Before the Close. Mexican Situation is the Paramount Factor—Whole List is Weak, Especially the Metal Shares.

[By A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK. June 26.—Last week's liquidation of stocks on a broader basis today the movement being one of almost steady declines, with some slight recovery at the close. The Mexican situation was again the paramount factor, although other developments, such as the Federal court order directing the dismantling of the Corn Products Refining Company and the less optimistic regarding crop prospects, helped to bring about the general shrinkage of values.

Copper and the Zinc shares were again in adverse fashion, and there were further reductions in ocean-going rates and specialties of less definite direction.

The weakness of standard rails, particularly Reading, which was also the most disconcerting feature of the session. Offerings of these stocks were more numerous than usual. It was showing a loss of 34 points.

Total sales of stocks amounted to $70,000 shares.

BUDGET TRIMMING SHOWS REVERSAL.

ADDITION OF FORGOTTEN AND NEW ITEMS MADE.

Committee Proposes to Complete Tentative Schedule and then Meets with Chamber of Commerce Committee Before Making its Final Report to the Council.

The Council Budget Committee started in yesterday to finish its tentative review of the demands of the various city departments and to trim down about $1,356,000 to bring the total just under $10,000,000 for the year. The net result of the day's work, however, was to add $64,923, while only $24,830 was trimmed. There are now more of the smaller departments remaining to be considered and each shows a prospect for the official use of the blue pencil. When the Budget Committee finishes its tentative draft, the Budget Committee of the Chamber of Commerce will likely meet and go over the documents with the Committee before the final budget is recommended to the Council.

Yesterday's additions included one item of about $17,500 for paving Exposition Park from Figueroa street to Vanmont avenue, and $22,000 for a municipal building at Van Nuys.

The engineer's estimate was to go ahead with his plan for paving the city's share of this stretch and in case bids are not as low as the engineer's estimates, the city will do the work.

Purchasing Agent Baker, who appeared before the Committee to tell where his budget can be trimmed, said that on everything the city is purchasing at the present time prices are 5 to 20 per cent. higher than one or two years ago.

In reviewing the budget demands of the City Engineer, the Committee found that he asked for 25 per cent. more than last year: the total being $2,132,176. Sixteen men were dropped from the list of employees, twelve engaged on storm sewer planning; three on sanitary sewer planning and one assistant grade engineer whose salary makes a total of $16,860.

The entire budget for the motion-picture censor department was deducted in such a way that Mayne has announced that he will have all the position created by the last ordinance. A cut of $1200 was made in the budget for the Public Utilities Board.

After Assistant City Engineer Hansen had told the committee that it may save $16,860 in salary account for his department and had also added in addition $17,500 to the budget for the Exposition boulevard paving and $10,000 for outfall sewer repairs, he was invited to leave because he suggested any more increases.

Condemned to Vast Harbor.

Chairman Topham of the Public Works Committee of the City Council announced that the committee will meet at San Pedro tomorrow night and in the future arrangements will likely be made for the committee to meet at one of the city fortresses in the Harbor district. Councilman Topham also announced that the Fairchild-Gilmore-Wilton Company has promised to renew its plant at San Pedro and seek a new location, where there will be no cause for complaint. The Council has sought this removal for some time but it was discovered that the plant could not legally be declared a nuisance.

Contractor Protests.

J. H. Blakeslee, contractor, registered an emphatic protest with the City Council yesterday against the proposed ordinance to require all building contractors to obtain a city license before carrying on the business. The motion, which was carried, was dismissed by Mr. Blakeslee, who said, but the suit was dismissed before the motion came before the court, and it was out of calendar.

The action, involving the valuable mines at Oatman, has been pending since 1911. After a preliminary skirmish in the local courts, the matter went to the Supreme Court, which denied a re-hearing, was reversed, and the case sent back for trial. Mr. Hobbs, who alleged he owned 2000 shares of stock in the mine, brought a suit on the ground of the right of a stockholder to make an inspection of the property of the corporation.

Changes are Authorized.

The City Council yesterday authorized City Auditor Myers to adopt a new system of economy of operation in his office. This will be instituted July 1 and a revision of methods will give Los Angeles what is said to be the best accounting system in use in any city of the country.

Municipalograms.

Municipalograms, the prints of the assessments for opening Broadway from Pico to Washington streets was set by the Council yesterday for July 12.

A report of the Finance Committee recommending that heads of all city departments be instructed to be more careful in the use of city property was approved by the Council yesterday. The report originated when the Finance Committee scanned a few recent bills for the repair of city automobiles.

Hope Lost.

PLANS OWN DEATH.

Convinced that a lingering illness was incurable, a woman makes deliberate preparation for the end and shoots herself.

Mrs. Joanna Goldbald, 28 years old, drew a rocking chair into the bathroom where she seated herself, laid her feet on the bathtub, and shot herself through the left breast. She died instantly. The gun she used was the most expensive she could purchase, and she had gone to a drug store earlier in the day to secure it.

Ill-health was given as the cause for her violence. She had been ill for several months and the attending doctors had been in serious doubt upon the funds of her husband, Charles Goldbald, a waiter.

Mrs. Goldbald became convinced her illness was incurable, and had been melancholy for several months. She wrote a note to her husband, informing him where she had placed all their family belongings in his old coat. Then she asked that plans they had agreed upon in case she died should be carried out, if he had no objection.

The home at No. 504 Bixel street.

Her husband returned from work after the lunch hour, and found his wife dead in the chair. He notified the police. The body was taken to Pierce Bros. morgue.

Court Refuses to Interfere with Transfer of Property by Husband to His Mother—Both Name Co-respondents Who Make Answers Refuting Charges.

The Wyant divorce suit had its first skirmish in Judge Wood's court yesterday, when Mrs. Ada F. Wyant was denied an order restraining Charles Harding Wyant from transferring property to his mother. The court, however, was to add $64,923, while only $24,830 was trimmed. There are now more of the smaller departments remaining to be considered and each shows a prospect for the official use of the blue pencil. When the Budget Committee finishes its tentative draft, the Budget Committee of the Chamber of Commerce will likely meet and go over the documents with the Committee before the final budget is recommended to the Council.

Mrs. Osborn is named in Mrs. Wyant's suit as co-respondent. She denies the allegation of misconduct in her answer. Mr. Wyant took up in his defense that his wife is to be brought to her certain parcels of property. He alleged that she is unreasonable and a jealous disposition and that she is desirous of ruining his reputation.
